Ford Wins First Boxing Match

Thursday, April 6, at Little Creek Naval Amphibious Base at Virginia Beach as Gordon Ford's coach, Marco Stone said, "Gordon fought three hard gutsy rounds."

The first fight started at 7:30 in the evening. Fighting an experienced fighter from the Tidewater Amateur Boxing Association, Gordon got in the ring for the first time he had butterflies and after a good hard punch to Gordon's face, he knew he was in for a beck of a fight. For three rounds Gordon fought his opponent with guts and sheer determination. He came out of the ring knowing he had won all three exhausting rounds.

The second fight Gordon fought an experienced fighter that had boxed in the army and boxed 3 years previous, on and off. Experience was one of the factors in the losing of the second fight. Although Gordon thought the first fighter was a much better fighter, he said also if he could have fought the second fight the next day instead of four hours later he might have had a better change of winning the second fight.

After coming back from Virginia Beach we know now that Appomattox has a boxing team.
